Religion School To Graduate Sunday

Dr. Herbert Gezork, prominent religious educator from Germany, whose anti-Nazi sentiment and expressions forced him to flee his native land before the war, will deliver the address at the 28th annual Commencement exercises of the Northern New England School of Religious Education. The exercises will take place at 10:30 Sunday at the South church. The entire student body and faculty, numbering nearly 300, from all parts of New England will participate in the services.

Dr. Gezork is a member of the faculty at Andover-Newton theological seminary, and occasional lecturer at many New England colleges. His inspirational addresses are full of religious vitality, and his thorough knowledge of Nazism makes it possible for him to paint vividly a picture of the evils of Fascism.

The school was founded 28 years ago and held its first meeting at Dartmouth college, later moving to New Hampshire university. Due

Mary Elliott Picked As Army "Igloo Girl"

Mary Elliott, popular young ingenue who made quite a hit here last summer with the Guy Palm-ton players, has been picked by the armed forces in the Aleutian Islands as the "movie star they'd most like to share their igloo with." Pictures of Miss Elliott, in her new "role" have recently appeared in New York and Boston papers and in Life magazine.

Miss Elliott left here in the middle of last summer's season, when she was put under contract by a Hollywood film studio, and is currently being given an extensive buildup in the movie capital. She has recently returned from a tour of service camps all over the United States and Hawaii.

In a recent letter to a local friend she has asked to be remembered to her Andover friends, warmly praising the hospitality with which she was always received here. She remembers particularly the night when she last played here, to a good house despite the weather.

"Anyone who thinks that New Englanders are as cold as they're supposed to be," the letter says, "hasn't been to Andover. I remember the many acts of kindness done me there...and never spent happier weeks than with those nice, friendly people...when the war is over, I hope to spend part of every summer in your part of the country."

Prepare Closing Playground Events

Field Days Tomorrow,
Carnivals Next Week

The local playgrounds are fast approaching the end of a brief but busy season, with the annual field days planned for all three branches tomorrow, and carnivals and suppers closing the year's activities next week.

Field day at Central playground will be held in two divisions, from 2:30 to 5:00 tomorrow for children under 11, and from 6:30 to 8:00 for those over that age.

The schedule at Central will include the following contests:

Toddlers, under 4, flag and ball race, boys and girls; kindergarten division, children from 4 to 6 years old, peanut scramble and 25 yard dash, boys and girls; primary division, children of 7 and 8, shoe scramble and 30 yard dash, boys and girls; elementary division, 9 and 10 years old: sack race for girls, wheelbarrow race for boys, 40 yard dashes for both. All boys and girls under 11 will be eligible for stilt and bicycle races concluding the afternoon program.

The evening's contests will include: Junior division, 11 and 12 years: cup race, girls, three-legged race, boys, and 50 yard dashes for both. Intermediate division, 13

Capacity Enrollment in Religious Education School Now in 28th Session at Phillips, Abbot Academies

At its new location in Andover, the Northern New England School of Religious Education opened its twenty-eighth annual session Sunday at Phillips and Abbot Academies. This foremost Standard Leadership education school in New England, after twenty-five years at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., has had to move because of war conditions.

A capacity enrollment was on hand for the opening convocation at Cochran Chapel, Sunday night. Alan R. Blackmer, director of Phillips' Summer session, and Mrs. Reeve Chipman, secretary of Abbot's alumnae association welcomed the school. Dr. Frederick Meek, president of the Maine Council of Churches, gave the address.

One of the oldest and largest in the east with all Standard courses, the school is run in cooperation with the International Council of Religious Education. It is interdenominational, with registrations representing all New England and other states. Separate divisions are set up off the adults of college age

Committee Makes Known Plans For Purchase Of Shaw Estate As Site For Town Office Building

Many Accepted at Induction Station

Army Group Goes on Active Duty Sept. 2

A large proportion of the men who left the offices of Local Draft Board 3 last Thursday morning for the Boston induction station were accepted for service by officials there. The percentage of acceptance was about 64 percent, the highest of any quota here in several months.

Those accepted for the Navy and Marines are leaving this week to go on active duty. The Army contingent will leave for Fort Devens September 2.

A committee of 75 local citizens last night made public their aims in the purchase of the Shaw estate on Main street, which they plan to offer the town as a site for a new town office building at next year's town meeting.

The names of the first subscribers to the purchase were included in the statement, and they include the names of many town officials and prominent business men. Their complete statement is as follows:

For many years, a great many of our citizens have been critical of our town office building. It is old, unattractive, inefficient, and in a deplorable physical condition. The toilet facilities are repulsive, the heating system calls for replacement and a patched-up rebuilding job has already been done too many times.

Six years ago, a committee on the centralization of town offices made a study of the building and the town's requirements, and advocated the purchase of the Shaw property on Main street as a site for a new structure. Doubts concerning the wisdom of the move, the seemingly high price asked for the property, and an insufficient presentation of the problem, resulted in an adverse decision at the town meeting. This has not solved the problem, however, and two recent events brought the question to the fore again. First, the Shaw heirs desired an immediate sale and were willing to make a substantial reduction in their price, and, second, outside mercantile interests were willing to meet this price and hold the land for post-war development.

Concert in Stoneham Will Benefit Soldiers

Many local people will undoubtedly be interested in a concert to be given in the Stoneham town hall Saturday evening at 8:15, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the work being done by the Stoneham Home Front.

Two U. S. soldiers will be among the soloists, Sgt. Vergil Fox of the Army Air Forces, an outstanding young organist, who will render several selections on the town hall's new instrument, and Pvt. Glenn Darling, baritone with the Metropolitan Opera company before entering service. A former Stoneham boy, Justin Lawrie, who used to be starred with Harry Horlick and the Gypsies on the radio, will also take part.

PROMINENT RESIDENT DIES

A well-known resident here for many years, Mrs. Martha J. Kimball, 32 Maple avenue, died Monday in her 89th year.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Frank Smith of Lynnfield, Mrs. Chester Snow of Melrose and Mrs. Harry Wadman of Andover; three sons, George P. Kimball of Nashua, N. H., Charles E. Kimball of Ossipee, N. H., and Frank A. Kimball of Malden; ten grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at Woodlawn chapel in Everett. The Christian Science service was read, the exercises beginning at 2 o'clock. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

The bearers were Charles, George, William and Frank Kimball, Chester Snow, and Harry, Homer and Clifford Wadman.

RECOVERING AFTER FALL

Pl. Sgt. Bernard J. Corrigan of the Marines, a former Osgood road resident, is recovering from a fall from a landing barge, suffered recently while practising beach landings with a Marine Corps outfit at Quantico, Va. He is not hospitalized by his injuries, but is "confined to quarters" for a week.

Youth Held for Breaks At Phillips in 1939

A young man who has confessed to three counts of breaking and entering at Phillips academy was bound over to a grand jury trial in Lawrence district court last Friday morning. The man, Richard P. Adams, 24, of Greenland, N. H., was held in bonds of $1,500 after pleading guilty to breaks at the school in December, 1939, in addition to six counts of larceny in buildings.

The man was released Thursday from state prison at Concord, N. H., after serving a five-to-seven year term, and was brought to Lawrence by Sgt. W. R. Hickey of the local police department. He was charged with breaking into Day Hall on December 2, 1939, and into Bancroft and Johnson halls on December 9, 1939, and the larceny of clothing and other possessions of six students.

Local police, at that time, traced a suit left at the scene of one of the breaks to a student at Phillips Exeter, and learned that the suit had been stolen. Suspicion was placed on Adams, who at the time was on parole, for breaks at the New Hampshire school. He was questioned, and later police searched his home in Greenland, finding many articles of clothing that had been stolen at both the Phillips academies. The defendant was returned to prison to finish out a previous sentence, and a warrant charging him with the Andover breaks was filed.

Sgt. Hickey testified that clothing and other articles valued at $210 was stolen in the Andover breaks, and all but about $40 worth was recovered. The defendant testified that he was released from the New Hampshire state prison after serving five to seven years, and that he would like to enter service if released.

Florian Marcoux and Earl Baker are in the same company in the Navy's boot camp at Newport, R. I.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

MARINE GOLFERS

They say the Marines can make use of all kinds of talent, and we can well believe it after this one:

It seems that Pfc William C. Addison, better known as "Red", is with the Fifth Marines somewhere in the Pacific area. Now Red has long been an ardent golf fan; in fact, he was club champ at the Andover Country club before entering service. Recently, his outfit being in a relatively "civilized" spot, he began looking around for a golf partner, and was fortunate enough to meet up with Tom Burke of Lowell, who used to be assistant pro at a country club there; Red had known him from before the war.

So now they make as formidable a golf team as they do Marines.

AT EASE!

Phil Winters of Essex street, looking sharp indeed in his Naval aviation cadet's uniform, is home from Illinois, where he's training.

Andy Ferrier, late of Moraine street, now of Argilla road, who has crossed the Atlantic several times with an armed guard crew on a merchant vessel, is finding the town good to see in a two-week furlough.

Bill Vannett of Brechin terrace and the Seabees is also furloughing at home these days.

Tunny Deyermund is home, a bit scratched up, but nothing serious, after taking part in the Navy action off Sicily. Tunny says the invasion was swell, and that he only came home because he'd heard about his winning the money at bank night. (We're kidding, of course.)

Congrats to Sgt. Cal. Deyermund, incidentally, brother of Tunny, who has been appointed an Army aviation cadet. Cal who's been stationed in Bangor, Me., is proceeding to a North Carolina field for basic training.

Another Navy veteran, Mike O'Dowd of Chestnut street, is home on a brief furlough. Mike will be remembered as a member of the crew of the Tasker H. Bliss, sunk during the initial American landing in North Africa last year.

Barney O'Neill's fine tenor voice has also been heard around Andover in the past week, Barney being home on a furlough from his army post in Louisiana.

Lucille Nollet, daughter of the Joseph Nollets of River road, and a former Merrimack Mutual worker, has received the rating of yeoman third-class in the SPARS. She's been stationed at the district Coast Guard office in Seattle, Wash., since receiving her new rating in July.

Charlie Ware is located at Camp Blanding, Fla., with a medical regiment.

Pvt. John McClellan, now in a mountain training regiment, is operating somewhere out of Seattle, Wash. So's Burton Batcheller.

Bud Bearor of Red Spring road, former exhibition parachute jumper who is now, appropriately enough, with Uncle Sam's paratroopers, has transferred for Camp MacKall, N. C., to Warner Robbins Air Depot in Georgia.

Margaret Darling, S2c in the SPARS, formerly located at their training station at Stillwater, Okla., has taken up new duties at Arlington Farms, Va.

A local Marine, Johnny Kelly, has been transferred from Parris Island to New River.

Pvt. George Saunders, formerly with an infantry tank company at Fort Dix, N. J., has been shifted to, of all places, the Aqueduct Race Track on Long Island.

Congrats to John Casey, formerly of Camp Pickett, Va., who is now an officer candidate at Camp Berkeley, Texas.

Responding to the Army Engineers' call for skilled workmen Jim Gillen of Maple avenue has signed up with the diggers as a Diesel mechanic, following his induction.

Stan Palenski of the Vale, who went to aviation school in Jax, Florida, and later was aboard the receiving ship in Frisco, has been assigned to fleet duty with the rating of third-class aviation radioman.

Roland Marcoux, SM2/c, is still associated with New York's harbor defense, but now at Fort Tilden.

Pvt. Reggie Gallant, stationed in Atlantic City these many moons, has been shifted to Greensboro, N. C.

And Cpl. John Ryan is now with a signal battalion at Camp Livingston, La.

All four sons of the Clinton H. Stevens of Morton street seem to be air-minded, since all four of them are in the AAF. Clint, Jr., recently became an air student, and is taking his pre-flight training now at Santa Ana, Calif. Jim Stevens is at an aircraft mechanics' school, in Seymour Johnson Field, N. C.; Dick is an aviation cadet at Greensboro in the same state, and Lt. Russ Stevens is located at the army airfield in Stuttgart, Ark.

Pvt. Gordon Cannon of Salem street has been enjoying a 15-day furlough at home. He used to be in Florida, but will get his return train ticket to Camp Robinson, Ark.

Lt. John B. Hawes of the Navy is back in a familiar job—teaching. He's at Colgate's flight preparatory school.

Cox. Peter Brucato and S1c Jack Greenhow are shipmates, somewhere in the Pacific area.

A/C Andy Lindsay has switched colleges—from Wesleyan university in Connecticut to Lenoir Rhyne college, Hickory, N. C.

A/C Bob Cowan, formerly of Fletcher Field, Miss., is now in a pre-flight school at Selman Field, La.

Frank Fettes, son of the Charles Fettes' of Buxton court, on fleet duty for quite a while now, has been assigned to the Naval ordnance school in Washington, D. C.

Pvt. Bud Bearor, formerly in Georgia, has been transferred to Venice, Fla. Sounds like a muddy place, but we dunno.

The Albert Kerrs of 109 Central street have two boys in service, Ensign Al Kerr, Jr., on Atlantic Fleet duty, and 1st Lt. Colin Kerr of the AAF.

We've just located Pvt. John Surette again; he's now attending the Midland radio school in Kansas City.

Congrats to Fred Kidd of Ballardvale, once an infantryman, then an enlisted man in the AAF, now assigned to aviation cadet training at Columbia, S. C.

Charlie Lovely, son of the Eugene Lovelys and former Punchard and Bates student, had a seven-day furlough in town last week. He was taking up chemical warfare at Camp Pickett, Va., but, evidently considering that a little too tame, has applied for and been accepted as a Ranger.

T/Sgt. Bob Trott is now located at Miami Beach, Fla., his wife, the former Helen Addison of West Andover, residing there with him. They see quite a bit, down there, of Ensign and Mrs. Ralph Dushame, Mrs. Dushame being the former Evelyn Rutter of the school superintendent's office.

Pvt. Andy Jackson writes us from Virginia that the Townsmans have started coming. He's particularly interested in the Cherry and Webb ad, since he was employed there before entering service.

Mrs. George Gordon of North Main street, her daughter, Mrs. Edmund Smith, and Mrs. James Holden, recently had a ten day visit at Fort Jackson, So. Car., with Mrs. Holden's husband, Pvt. Jim Holden, stationed there with the infantry. While there they met Woody Crowley and several other Andover boys. They had intended to look in on Frank Patterson of Dufton road, but found later that he had been in Andover on a furlough at the time... Holden's brother, Bill Holden has been stationed in the Aleutian area for some months, and no word has been received from him now in nine weeks.

A squadron headquarters at the Sixth Air Force base in the Caribbean area has announced the promotion of Don Surette, son of the Mark Surettes of Locke street, from staff to technical sergeant. Don used to be a photographer before entering service March 27, 1941, many of his pictures appearing in the Townsman... He's been snapping 'em in the Caribbean area just about two years now.

Pfc Dick Christison has just returned to Camp Hale, Colo., after a 15-day furlough, half of which was spent in No. Chatham, N. H. Dick has spent most of his time at Camp Hale in the hospital, but hopes for better luck in the future.

Ye Poet's Corner

To the servicemen's page Poet's Corner, through devious channels, comes a poem sent home by Robert "Rip" Look of the Marine corps, son of Dr. Percy J. Look of Main street, who is now in the South Pacific with the Marine air corps. Rip is very careful to say that he personally didn't write the poem; a friend of his did. It runs like this:

ODE TO MY FOXHOLE

When three quick blasts are sounded,
And the Nips are overhead,
I wouldn't trade my foxhole
For a quilted feather bed.

Ever see Frankie Sinkwich
Streaking downfield for a goal?
Well, he looks like a turtle
When I'm heading for my hole!

A bomb might have my number
And the Zeros take their toll
But if they ever get me—
Bud, I'll be down in the hole!

Sgt. Roy Hood sends along an interesting letter, mentioning that he and Bill Buchan get together pretty often to discuss the fishing at Foster's Pond and the hunting in West Andover. Roy wants to know who else is in Hawaii. Offhand, the only one we can think of is Bill Lewis of the Navy. Can anybody help us, and Roy? If so, front and center!

Fic Hans Gordon of Central street is now at Camp Perry in historic Williamsburg, Virginia.

Charlie Lawrence of Ballardvale, whose family has made a fine contribution to the war, is with one of Camp Lee, Va.'s quartermaster regiments now.

Pvt. Bill Small, lately with the AAF at Kelly Field, is reported to have gone overseas.

Capt. George Carney is now with the field artillery at Camp Edwards, after seeing most of the country in various assignments. He asks to be remembered to everyone in town, not forgetting "the boys in good old Precinct Two."

Town Hall

Most of our citizens oppose special town meetings, but many of these same people advocate town ownership of the Shaw estate. It was necessary to act at once. A representative list of citizens was approached, the problem was discussed with them, and it seemed best to purchase the Shaw property and offer it to the town at the 1944 annual meeting, at a figure that would prohibit profit to any individual.

The citizens named below have cooperated in this purchase. Their opinions do not agree in every detail, but they feel that a constructive step has been taken. If properly worked out, many advantages should result. Our square would be improved in appearance, parking facilities would be enlarged, air and light provided for two side business streets, and the condition outlined in the first paragraph of this presentation would be overcome. If the town buys the site, an architectural study could be made and presented at the 1945 town meeting, and construction could be started then or further postponed, if we are still at war.

Considerable thought and study have gone into the problem, and this presentation is preliminary and incomplete. The subscribers feel that publicity is necessary and welcome. They wish the subject to be so fully discussed before the 1944 town meeting that every voter present may cast his vote intelligently.

MISTER,

Don't You Realize There's a WAR Going On?

That's the retailer's common plea nowadays, when your shirt isn't ready for the weekend, when the cobbler has to keep your shoes on his shelf just a few days longer, when the butcher can't give you a choice piece of top round such as Mrs. Smith got in his store not half an hour ago. "Don't you realize there's a war on?"

War was never meant to bring to an end those little services a dealer may voluntarily render you — things like carrying your armload of groceries half a block to your car, putting a shine on your shoes after tapping the soles, giving you matches with your cigarettes. And yet, the shopper often finds that many stores have discontinued these trifling services with the lame excuse that "it's the war."

Some of them haven't, and we think that you'll find that the ones that try to do their best for you in wartime are the ones that served you best in peace — stores owned by the fellow who sings with you in glee club, or staffed by people who cooked your church supper last year. They're not the stores run by some fellow in New York to whom Andover isn't even a dot on a map.

When the war's over — and it may be over sooner than some of us think — remember who tried to treat you right, and give him the benefit of your business in the years to come.

and 14 years: egg and spoon race, girls, horse and rider race, boys, and 75 yard dashes for both. Senior division, 15 and over: blind-fold race, girls, running broad jump, boys and 100 yard dashes for both. All boys and girls over 11 will be eligible for stilt and bicycle races, and ladies attending will be invited to try their luck at a clothes pin race.

Shawsheen's field day will be somewhat similar, or boys and girls 7 years old or younger, there will be a peanut scramble and ball race.

Girls and boys from 8 to 11 will compete in separate contests, in a shoe scramble, 50 yard dash, three-legged race, stilt race and egg race. Boys and girls of 12 and over will have shoe scrambles, sack races, 100-yard dashes, cup races, three-legged races and stilt races.

Tomorrow afternoon will also be field day for Ballardvale. Afternoon events will be: Toddlers (under 4), kiss scramble and ball race; 4, 5 and 6 years old, peanut scramble and 25-yard dash; 7 to 8, shoe scramble and 30 yard dash; 9 to 10, sack race and 40-yard dash.

The evening events will be: 11 and 12 years old, stilt races for boys and girls, and 50 yard dash for both; 13 and 14 years old, potato race for girls, three-legged race for boys, and 75 yard dash for both; 15 and over, peanut on knife race, and 100 yard dash.

Tournaments at Central and the other playgrounds will end tonight at 5:00. Last Friday was the original closing date, but the time was extended because of the recent bad weather.

Next week, Shawsheen and Central will hold picnic suppers, and Ballardvale will stage a carnival. The dates are: Shawsheen, Wednesday, Ballardvale, Thursday, and Central, Friday.

Tickets are now on sale for the Shawsheen and Central suppers, and may be purchased from Misses Boehner and Walsh at Central, Miss Hey and James Bisset at Shawsheen. The supper will include nothing rationed, but will comprise the "seven basic foods" which the children have been studying this summer.

Tables will be set up under the trees at the two playgrounds, and children may either bring lunches or purchase the meal served. Parents are especially welcome.

Pony rides and other features will be held, starting at 5:00, and supper will be served at 5:30. At 6:00, a program of games and contests of various types will begin, the pony rides will continue, and Harold Phinney will furnish music for folk dancing and games. Hand-work made during the summer will be on display, and there will also be a victory garden contest, in which children will enter samples of the vegetables grown in their own gardens during the season. Ribbons will be awarded the best entries.

The program will conclude with patriotic exercises around the flagpole in the two centers, including patriotic songs, pledge to the flag, and awarding of war bonds, for which chance tickets are now being circulated.

At Ballardvale, next Thursday evening, a carnival will be held, as in former years. The evening will feature music, pony rides, a handwork exhibit, a victory garden show, and the sale of refreshments.

Shawsheen

Last Friday evening, a jump rope contest was held.

Winners at that time in the 8 to 11 age group were Joan Barry, first; Ann Merchant, second; Walter Tomlinson, third.

Winners in the 11 and over age group were Bernice Parker, first; Barbara Bird, second; June Steinert, third.

Other contestants were Adeline Mars, Frances Dunlavy, Jean Pearson, Joan Pearson, Janet Grigger, Elaine MacLellan and Jean Steinert.

Central

The annual doll show at Central, last Friday evening brought out as always, a galaxy of "oldest", "best-dressed", "most natural" and what-have-you dolls. The winners in the various divisions were:

Twins and quints—Carol Wheeler, first; Claire Wheeler, second, Mary Young, third. Oldest—Clarice Naylor, first; Janet Hulse, second; Mary Ellen Barker, third.

Best dressed—Barbara Folley, first; Clarice Naylor, second; Joyce Sullivan, third. Character—Helen Smith, first; Marjorie Davis, second.

Best home made—Zita Surette, first; Jimmy Holt, second. Most natural—Maureen Dailey, first; Hazel Murphy, second; Constance Markert, third.

Most unusual—First, Drusilla Flathers; second, Edith Flathers. Stuffed and rubber dolls—Ruth Ann Frederickson, first; Judith Nowell, second; Viola Barnett, third.

Best in national costume—Anne Smith, first; Zita Surette, second; Constance Markert third. Smallest—Melissa Irwin, first; Mina Beck, second; Diane Nowell, third.

Best decorated carriage—Carol Folley, first; Clarice Naylor, second. Fancy costumes—Pauline Smith, first; Phyllis Heifetz, second.

Ballardvale

Last Friday's feature at the Vale playground was the familiar bubble contest. The winners were Anne MacFarlane, first; Janet Marion, second; Philip Coates, third. Elizabeth Blanchard served as judge, George Zink as announcer.

The contest was conducted in three heats according to age, with the following taking part:

From 4 to 5 years: Fred Lawrence, Fred Davis, Richard Nolan, Joan Lakin, Thelma Sparks, Anne Ward, Joyce Nason, Paul Beaulieu, Robert Nolan, Janice Marion.

Six years old: James Butler, Harold Newcomb, Priscilla Laurie, Richard Lawrence, Richard Carroll, Arline Hazelton, Carol Forsyth, Philip Coates, Marilyn Ness.

From 7 to 9 years: Ann Morton, Anne MacFarlane, Lucille Sherry, Joan Hazelton.

EXAMS ARE POSTPONED

The Annapolis and West Point examinations of Edith Nourse Rogers have been postponed from August 21 to Saturday, September 18. This was done at the request of the United States Civil Service Commission. Any men in the Fifth Massachusetts Congressional District who have not already applied to Congressman Rogers for permission to take the examinations should do so without further delay if they are interested.

Everybody in Andover has, at one time or another, trod the dirt road depicted here. Give up — well, it's the road off Abbott street, opposite Spring Grove cemetery, leading down to Poms Pond.

"Country Road," a watercolor by the Andover artist, Harry Sutton, Jr., from which this cut was made, is included in the exhibition, "New England Album — A Gasless Tour of the Countryside," showing at the Addison Gallery until Labor Day.

Townies Go After Twelfth Straight Against Redskins

Since they found little opposition, and were able to run roughshod over a pretty impotent nine last Sunday, the Andover town team has now stretched its winning streak to eleven games, and goes after its twelfth straight this Sunday afternoon at the playstead.

The opponent will be the Newton Redskins, down from the hills of New Hampshire, whom the Townies found little difficulty in beating 7 to 3, the first day of this month. However, the Redskins put up a good showing then, despite the score, and have since reinforced their club with several able players.

For the Sunday after next, managers Hal Wennik and Chuck McCullom are searching the highways and byways for one of the better service teams in this part of the country, and the Chelsea Naval Hospital and Portsmouth Coast Defense nine are under consideration along with the Boston Wolverines and the Lowell Lincolns. The latter club is cleaning up everything in sight in the cotton center, and will show their wares here at a later date if not September 5.

This Sunday will also be the final appearance of Capt.-elect Artie Moher and Gene Bierer of Phillips academy, two boys who have sparked the Townies all season.
They are completing their summer course at the school, and will leave for their home in Connecticut and New York respectively in the middle of next week.

The Wakefield Town team, which played a very poor game last Sunday in losing to the locals, 12 to 2, was far below the calibre of the clubs the Townies have been in the habit of playing. Officials of the local club had been led to believe, in scheduling the game, that the Wakefield nine was capable of playing a far higher grade of ball than it actually showed.

Bob Burnham, who has not lost a game since his first start, early this season, put the lid on the Wakefielders very effectively in the first seven innings of the game, retiring when his mates had made the bases a merry-go-round and rolled up a six-run lead. Frank McEvoy, regular first baseman who has quite a bit of pitching experience behind him, spelled Burnham in the last three innings, and struck out five of the seven batters facing him. Walter Gartside led the Andover batters with three hits, three runs, in five times at bat.

Canning Center Has Put Up 2200 Jars

Fine progress continues to be made at the local canning center in the Free church, 66 jars or more of produce being put up there last week. The total number put up so far is about 2200 jars.

About 10 people are using the facilities of the canning center daily, and many others have consulted the staff, from time to time, on problems connected with canning done in their own homes. Last week, Mrs. Otto Eschholz of Lowell street acted as supervisor in place of Miss Edith Belair, who was called away by a death in her family.

Next Wednesday has been set aside for canning chicken, many local people having taken to raising pullets this summer in place of vegetable gardening. Mr. Clapp, an expert on the subject, will be on hand from Essex Aggies to direct the operations.

Persons interested in canning are especially advised to come in then; about 15 workers can be taught each morning, and an equal number again in the afternoon. If the response is too great, another day will be set aside to continue the program.

Planning For Carnival

The Vale playground association committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Lionel Buckley, is progressing with its plans for the carnival to be held next Thursday. There will be a food table, with candy, pastry and preserves; sandwiches, tonic, roast corn and grab-bags will also be sold.

The children are now selling chance tickets for a war bond to be awarded during the evening, and there will be pony rides and music for dancing.

All residents are asked to cooperate with solicitors who will call on them, or to make their contributions to any member of the committee. Help in manning the various tables is also needed;
those interested may get in touch

Things Aren't TOO Bad!

"It's a lucky thing for us that things aren't as bad as they are," said that old nonesuch, Fred Stone, in his post-performance monologue at Ye Wilbur last Saturday matinee. Fred meant to be whimsical, no doubt, but there's really a lot of lean meat in his statement.

The Greeley ad, appearing in this paper last week, gave us more food for thought on the same subject. The ad started something like this: "Let's all of us be fair with the O. P. A... there has never been any real serious shortage of food since rationing came into effect. True, there have been days when we had no lamb chops or porterhouse steaks or our favorite cuts of roast beef, but there have always been SOME good meats or poultry."

And, as a matter of fact, none of us has been actually hungry at any time since December 7, 1941; our lot is a happy one compared to that of the people of Greece, Belgium and others of the occupied countries. We have not yet found it necessary to ration clothing, as is done in England; there is no rationing of travel, or of mail, or of many other things which might reasonably have been curtailed.

Our military security has been most adequate, and we have been subject to none of the bombings, or invasions, or sabotage that have terrorized the countrysides and cities of many other nations. We have a dimout, but no permanent blackout; we have strikes, but still a juridical manner of dealing with them; we have the draft, but no iron-clad allocations of labor. We have a great many things that we might easily be expected to do without.

Coming up next month is the Third War Loan, the third, the biggest and, it is hoped, the best of those gigantic campaigns. You will, of course, help out the campaign by putting away every available dollar into war bonds. You may do it in token of the boys who crawl through mud and under barbed wire, who get their only rest in cat-naps over several weeks, who fly through shrapnel, and do many other things which you, as a civilian, are not called on to do.

Buy your bonds as a token of your appreciation for that sort of service, of course. But buy them also for the kind of service you're still getting here at home. Dig down deep in your jeans, and remember that Fred Stone told you that "things aren't as bad as they are."

This Sober Town

We would not pick on Mr. John Benson, proprietor of Benson's Wild Animal Farm, for the second time in three weeks except for the extraordinary circumstances that noteworthy things have been happening at the farm at the intervals aforesaid.

Week before last, we related with some delight the elaborate plans Mr. Benson has made to shelter his pythons in an air raid.

This week, we have the touching tale of a Mr. Reed. Our Mr. Reed, in years gone by, trained an elephant, Betsey, and a white horse, Annabelle, to do tricks together, and, animals being none too bright, spent many patient hours with them.

Then about nine years ago, he left Benson's to take another job, and never again did he work with Betsey and Annabelle until a few weeks ago. At that time the trainer who had succeeded him was inducted into the army, and Mr. Reed was induced to come back to his old job.

On his first day, he dropped in on several of his animal friends. Betsey, the moment she saw him, went wild with joy and jumped into his lap, the tears flowing swiftly down her trunk. But Annabelle, the white horse, didn't give him a tumble. Proving once again that elephants are long on memory.

There are numerous lessons to be gathered from this touching tale, besides the one that Mr. Benson points out. For one thing, the evidence points to Betsey's recognizing Reed before he recognized her. For another, the circumstances may indicate only that elephants are more palsy than horses.

The funny thing about the whole story is that Mr. Benson neglects to give Reed's first name anywhere in the story, and it is entirely plausible that his memory is as bad as the infamous Annabelle's.

Our friend Sam the Sage tells us that "women, generally speaking, ARE generally speaking".

If you think that you have trouble running your business nowadays, consider the pitiful state of Major Dale Savage of the Army Engineers.

Following the landings by amphibian engineer soldiers at Safi, French Morocco, last November, the major had to hire 1,300 Arab workers to do certain necessary work there.

When payday arrived, he was unable to get any coin from the Arab equivalent of a bank; could get nothing at all, in fact, but bank notes of large denomination.

Major Savage (really savage by this time) took the notes, called the workers together and announced that he was handing out one bill for each seven workers, and that it was up to them how they split it among themselves.

There was a near-riot for half a day or so, Arabs being particularly excitable fellows, but they got the thing straightened out.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith of Philadelphia have been visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Irene W. Cole of Elm street.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

For extraordinary courage Boatswain's Mate Harold F. Smith, First Class, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. After orders to abandon the U.S.S. Arizona at Pearl Harbor, he took his motor launch out to the stricken battle wagon repeatedly—in spite of fierce enemy bombing and strafing—in spite of flaming oil on the water's surface—and brought ashore burned and wounded personnel, saving many lives. Your Payroll Savings MUST back such men as this.

Reading Forum on Post-War World

Residents of Andover who are interested in the place of the United States in post-war international affairs are invited to attend the opening meeting of the Reading Forum next Tuesday evening at 8:00.

The meeting will be held in Security Hall, Odd Fellows building, Woburn street, Reading, just a few steps from Reading Square. The speakers, U. S. Senator Burnet Rhett Maybank (Dem.) of South Carolina, and Congressman Robert Hale (Rep.) of Maine, constitute one of the 16 pairs touring the country in the interest of the resolutions now before Congress to assure the participation of this country in the arranging and enforcing of the peace.

State Guard Company Is Now Learning Judo

A new interest was lent to last Sunday's State Guard drill period when the men received their first instruction in the art of "judo." Judo is a scientific form of rough and tumble fighting in which skill and agility are substituted for weight and strength. A judo expert can give odds of forty or fifty pounds to his opponent and still toss the bigger man, make him toe a line or just put him out of the fight.

Besides the judo training most of the company were taken for a march and skirmish practice, by Lieutenant G. C. Emmons. The recruits were left behind in charge of Cpl. Edward Thorbin, who gave them further basic training.

No session of the tactical school was held this week, but the entire company is to be given tactical training next Sunday.

SUBSCRIBERS WELCOME

This list of subscribers to purchase the Shaw estate is not complete. It was obtained in something of a hurry, and due to lack of time, vacations, etc., many citizens were not contacted. If anyone is interested, however, the subscribers would be pleased to increase the number of participants.

A deposit has been made on the Shaw property, and the necessary legal steps are well under way. Trustees have been appointed, and a trust agreement will be presented to the shareholders in the very near future.

GET B. U. DEGREES

Among the class of approximately 200 students who received their degrees from Boston University Saturday at the annual graduation exercises which climaxed the University's 29th annual summer session of six weeks, were: David K. Lovely, 134 Summer street, S. B. candidate for the degree of doctor of medicine; and Thomas David Burns, 267 Main street, candidate for the degree of bachelor of laws.

Miss Mary Moynihan of High street spent the weekend visiting in Reading.

John and Allan Guild have returned to Buffalo, N. Y., after having been called to the family home on Lovejoy road by the serious illness of their father, John Guild.

Misses Carol Ann and June DesRoches are vacationing in North Abington.

DEATHS

A former local resident, Walter J. O'Connell of Enfield, N. H., died suddenly last Thursday afternoon. He collapsed at his work as overseer of the dyeing at Baltic Mills of the American Woolen company in Enfield, and passed away shortly after admittance to the Mary Hitchcock hospital in Hanover, N. H.

Mr. O'Connell was born here March 19, 1891, and was educated in Andover. In his youth, he was a star baseball player with the old Andover Royals, the town's leading team three decades ago. He was also a member of Andover council, Knight of Columbus, and Andover Post 8, American Legion. In Andover he made his home at 91 Chestnut street.

After attending Lowell Textile institute, he began a long career in the dyeing end of the textile industry. He was formerly overseer of dyeing at the Talbot mills, Billerica, and had held the same position in the Baltic mills, Enfield, for the past five years.

He served overseas for nine months during the first World War, enlisting December 12, 1917, as a sergeant in the motor transport corps, and serving in France from March 30, 1918, to July 7, 1919.

Surviving are his wife, Mary (O'Brien) O'Connell; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David O'Connell of Andover; a son, William of Enfield; a sister, Mrs. Robert Cochran of Lawrence; a brother Clarence, of Buffalo, N. Y.; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Monday morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Augustine's church. Very Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O. S. A., was celebrant, Rev. Francis Ronan, O. S. A., deacon, and Rev. Matthew McDonald, O. S. A., sub-deacon.

The bearers were Charles O'Connell, Hon. Leonard Kelley of Enfield, Dr. John A. Miller, John A. Condon, George Collins and Birgit Hamilton.

Burial was in Immaculate Conception cemetery, Lawrence.

A well-known Carter's Corner resident with a host of friends throughout town passed away Friday evening in the death of Mrs. Victoria Peters of County road. She was 90 years of age.

She was born in Prince Edward Island, P. Q., and had resided here for the past 37 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Myers; two sons, Edward and John Peters of Canada; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Gaudet and Mrs. Sylvestro Dupres of Canada; a brother, John Tineau of Detroit, Mich.; 19 grand-children and nine grand-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock in St. Augustine's church. Rev. Matthew F. McDonald, O. S. A., was celebrant, assisted by Rev. Francis Ronan, O. S. A., as deacon, and Rev. James M. Kelly, O. S. A., as sub-deacon. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery, Lawrence.

Word has been received here of the death of Howard A. Cutler, who had many friends here, August 10 in Los Angeles, Calif. In Andover, he resided at 9 Abbot street.

The remains are being forwarded to Andover, and the funeral will be held here. The date and place of the obsequies has not been made public.

IN MEMORIAM

Blanche Whitlock Carlton

Death often becomes the truest touchstone of a life. In the case of Blanche Whitlock Carlton, the universal expression of loss proves her to have contributed heavily to the cultural and spiritual life of this community.

Her coming to Andover hinged upon an accidental happening in the autumn of 1886, which found a homesick Cleveland girl in a first floor room of old College hall, Wellesley College. With an unusually large Freshman class on their hands, the Trustees called a young graduate, Ellen Fitz Pendleton, to teach mathematics. Blanche Whitlock was ousted from her room to make way for the new teacher and was sent into a suite for three, of whom one was Mary Tyler, now Mrs. Fred Jones. Through her, Blanche met Frank Carlton. The rest is history. For 37 years the two Freshman roommates were to live side by side in Andover. And now all ages and all types mourn her departure.

When asked what were the leading traits in Mrs. Carlton's character, people have answered revealingly. A contemporary who has known her since 1900 emphasizes her selflessness, her putting others first, an attribute which was manifested even on the day of her death. This accounted in part for her success in posts of leadership. Whether as president of the November club or counselor of the A. P. C. sorority, she did not force her wishes upon others, but drew out their opinions and gifts. As the president of the A. P. C. said: "Mrs. Carlton was there, in the background of all our activities, never obtruding herself, but keeping things right. She was a great leveler."

Still another lifetime friend has always admired the zest with which Blanche Carlton lived her life. To college classmates, to her church and her club, she gave freely of her best. The foundation of her life, said a church friend, was a sure faith in a personal God. Rooted and grounded in this faith, her days showed a rare consistency.

None will miss her more keenly than the members on the committee of the Home Department of the Sunday school, South church. To those women, the name, "Blanche Carlton," will conjure up a room with a grand piano, a very active bird-feeding station outside the window, a cup of tea, a friendly telephone message. Many shared the hospitality of that upper room. The words of Grace Hazard Conkling will bring them comfort. In "After Sunset" she writes:

"I know
That somehow I shall follow when you go
To the still land beyond the evening star,
Where everlasting hills and valleys are:
And silence may not hurt us any more,
And terror shall be past, and grief,
and war."

GAS
REFRIGERATOR!

Food is precious today. Not only because it is rationed, but also because it is not so plentiful. And, as most vitamins are extremely perishable, it is important to protect fresh foods with proper refrigeration. That's where your modern gas refrigerator is a big help... and it's so convenient and dependable. Best of all, because it has no moving parts, it operates silently month after month at the same low cost.

GOOD CARE WILL PAY... BEGIN TODAY!

Don't open refrigerator door more often than necessary... it wastes "cold." Keep outside clean and sparkling, using damp cloth. Wipe up spilled foods immediately, especially acids and fruit juices. Defrost regularly. Wash inside frequently with baking soda and water. Don't over-crowd shelves—allow space for air circulation. Avoid fast-freezing operations when possible.

WEDDINGS

Barrett—Ludwig

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Ludwig of Burlington, Vermont, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Helen Anna, to First Sergeant Frederick A. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Barrett of Chestnut street.

The wedding took place August 11 in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, in Burlington.

The bride is a graduate of the Bishop De Goerbrland hospital, Burlington. Sergeant Barrett attended the local schools and at the present time is stationed at Camp Edwards with the Engineers
Amphibian Command.

Stevens—Clark

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ellen E. Clark, daughter of Mrs. Frank Brailsford of Lawrence, to James F. Stevens, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens of 72 Morton street.
The ceremony took place July 11 at the post chapel at Seymour
Johnson Field, N. C., where Mr.
Stevens is stationed.

Lieut. Russell Stevens, brother of the bridegroom, made the trip from Stuttgart, Ark., by air to be present at the ceremony. Mrs.
Stevens will make her home with her mother for the duration of the war.

Towne—Verrette

At a pretty ceremony performed at 6 o'clock last Friday evening in St. Augustine's church, Miss Gloria Mona Verrette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Verrette of Maple avenue, was united in marriage with Private Robert Irving Towne, U. S. M. C., of Cherry Point, N. C., son of Mrs. Edward Martin Towne of Rocky Hill road. Very Rev.
Thomas B. Austin, O. S. A., pastor, officiated. A reception followed at the Andover Square and Compass club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net with four-tier veil of illusion and a Juliette cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Her younger sister, Miss Jacqueline Verrette, served as maid of honor, being attired in an aqua silk jersey gown with matching Juliette cap. She carried pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Germaine Verrette, sister, and Miss Carmen Robichaud, cousin of the

In a ceremony performed in the chapel at Grace church, Lawrence, Tuesday afternoon at 12:45, Miss Mildred E. Lister, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lister of 42 Greenfield street, Lawrence, became the bride of Ensign Ernest L. Birdsall, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Birdsall of 22
Florence street. Rev. Chandler
Crawford, curate, officiated.

The couple were attended by the bride's sister and her husband, Mr.
and Mrs. Earl Spencer of Lynn.

The bride wore a blue crepe suit with black accessories and, her matron of honor an outfit in black and white. The couple left for a brief wedding trip to the White mountains.

The bride, a registered nurse, is on duty at the Lawrence General hospital. Ensign Birdsall, who received his commission in May, has been stationed at Newport, R. I., but will report for fleet duty in New York Saturday.

of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan M. Cairnie of 64½ High street, became the bride of Private Harold McAllister, son of Mrs. Mary B. McAllister of 97 Massachusetts avenue, North Andover, at a ceremony performed at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Free church by Rev. Frank C. Dunn, pastor.

Miss Jane Cairnie, the bride's sister, served as her maid of honor.
The bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Nicholl of Methuen and Miss Agnes Cairnie of Andover, cousins of the bride, and Miss Esther Bryant of Andover, a close friend.

Wilfred McAllister of Haverhill served as best man for his brother.
The ushers were Duncan Cairnie, Joseph Roberts and John Ospachuk.
